In Session Week 3 Activities as Acts of Service

The best activities respond to the needs of your students and community. This week, your challenge is to create service projects that help those who need it most.

What is one specific challenge facing your community right now?

How can you help address that challenge from the safety of your own home?

Finally, name 3 groups of students who you would like to invite to participate in your service activity.
